THE PURPOSES OF THIS PROJECT WERE TO (1) DEVELOP A SET OF OBJECTIVES WHICH ACCURATELY REFLECTED THE TASKS THE SCHOOL WOULD LIKE TO ATTEMPT AND THE OUTCOMES NEEDED IN ORDER TO VIEW THE SCHOOL AS SUCCESSFUL, AND (2) DEVELOP A SET OF INSTRUMENTS AND A PLAN FOR GATHERING DATA WHICH WOULD ALLOW THE STAFF TO EVALUATE AND DETERMINE THE ACHIEVEMENT OF EACH OF THEIR OBJECTIVES. THE PLAN WAS DESIGNED TO BE CARRIED OUT BY THE SCHOOL STAFF WITH MINIMAL ASSISTANCE FROM OUTSIDE SPECIALISTS. GREENE JOINT VOCATIONAL SCHOOL OBJECTIVES, AS SET FORTH BY THE SCHOOL STAFF, ARE GROUPED ACCORDING TO THE ELEMENT THEY ARE INTENDED TO SERVE--STUDENTS, FEEDER SCHOOLS, ADULTS, STAFF, EMPLOYERS, AND COMMUNITY. FOR EACH OBJECTIVE, THERE IS A LIST OF DATA TO BE COLLECTED, WITH THE SOURCE IDENTIFIED. DATA SUMMARY SHEETS IDENTIFY THE ITEMS TO BE USED TO ASSESS EACH OBJECTIVE. AN EVALUATION PLAN CONTAINS A DESCRIPTION AND EXPLANATION OF THE MANNER IN WHICH THE ASSESSMENT ITEMS CAN BE USED AND SPECIFIES WHO SHOULD FILL OUT THE ITEM, THE TIME IT SHOULD BE ADMINISTERED, THE INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBLE FOR SUMMARIZING THE DATA, AND THE ACTION TO BE TAKEN. EVALUATION FORMS TO BE COMPLETED BY STUDENTS, GRADUATES, ADULT GRADUATES, EMPLOYERS, STAFF, AND COMMUNITY GROUPS ARE INCLUDED. COPIES OF DATA SUMMARY SHEETS AND EVALUATION FORMS ARE INCLUDED. (MM)

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The completion of this study required the cooperation and assistance of many members of the Greene Joint Vocational School and the American Institutes for Research. However, there are those who, because of the magnitude of their efforts, deserve particular recognition:

Eugene Kavanagh, Wallace Gossett, Fred Thomas, and John Holstein for the patient manner in which they listened and responded to questions such as "What is it you want to accomplish?" and "How will you know when you have accomplished it?"

Dr. Edward Morrison, who patiently listened to my problems and provided advice as well as moral support; Jan Shaw, who typed and proofed the entire report.

INTRODUCTION

The Greene Joint Vocational School (GJVS) will become operational in September 1967. Both the hardware (physical facilities) and software (the curriculum) are new. During its early months of operation, it is highly unlikely that everything will work smoothly. It is during this developmental period that system evaluation is most critical. This requires that a systematic attempt be made to clearly specify what it is that the school intends to accomplish and plans made to assess their degree of accomplishment.

Purposes of the Project

The purposes of this project are: (1) to develop, with the assistance of the GJVS staff, a set of objectives which accurately reflect the tasks the GJVS would like to tackle and the outcomes they would like to see in order to view themselves as being successful, and (2) to develop a set of instruments and a plan for gathering data which will allow the GJVS staff to determine whether or not they have been successful in achieving each of their objectives. The plan is designed to be carried out by the GJVS staff with minimal assistance from outside specialists.

This project is not intended as a device for establishing or focusing blame, but rather as an attempt to develop procedures for monitoring the degree to which stated objectives are achieved. The procedures and techniques contained in this report are designed to insure that the programs at the new school develop continually from their beginnings in September 1967 and remain as responsive as possible to the needs of students and of the community it serves.

The objectives contained in this report represent the current intent of the GJVS and are not meant to be binding on the school for any specified length of time. As community needs change, these changes should be reflected in the objectives of the GJVS and in the instruments assessing their attainment. This report is intended to provide a methodology useful in stating and assessing the attainment of any educational outcome deemed desirable by the GJVS.

Method

Several visits were made by AIR personnel to Xenia to discuss with GJVS personnel the objectives of the school and its various programs. The AIR representatives then returned to Pittsburgh and reviewed both the notes and materials obtained from the GJVS. During this period, some interpretations of and elaborations on the GJVS comments were made. These "revised" objectives were then taken back to Xenia and reviewed by the GJVS staff. This process was repeated through several iterations and resulted in the set of objectives provided in a later section of this report.

The information to be gathered for the assessment, the data-gathering instruments, and evaluation plan were developed by AIR and both reviewed and revised by the GJVS staff. This product reflects a great deal of collaboration between the Greene Joint Vocational School and the American Institutes for Research.

Arrangement of Report

The remainder of this report is divided into the following sections:

1. GJVS Objectives. This section contains the objectives set forth by the GJVS staff. It provides a series of statements which specify what it is that the GJVS hopes to accomplish. Statements are grouped according to the community element they are intended to assist.
2. Data to be Collected. This section specifies the information to be collected in order to assess the attainment of each objective and is intended to fill in one of the logical steps taken to arrive at actual assessment items. It will also identify the sources of information being utilized to gather evaluation data.
3. Data Summary Sheets. This section identifies the items to be used to assess each objective. The format of these sheets was designed to also be useful for data summarization.

4. Evaluation Plan. This section contains a description and explanation of the manner in which the assessment items can be used and analyzed. It specifies who should fill out the item, the approximate time it should be administered, the individual responsible for summarizing the data, and the action to be taken with the summary.
5. Evaluation Items. This section contains the items to be used in evaluating the attainment of GJVS objectives. Items will be grouped by type of respondent. For example, all items to be completed by GJVS graduates will be found in the same section. In addition, the objective (s) each item is assessing will appear along the left margin of each sheet.

EVALUATION PLAN

EVALUATION PLAN

The evaluation plan is intended to provide a description of a way in which the assessment items can be used and analyzed. It specifies who should fill out the item, the approximate time it should be administered, the individual responsible for summarizing the data, as well as the action to be taken with this summary. In all cases, unless clearly specified in the plan, copies of the data summary should be provided to the director and superintendent of the GJVS. When appropriate, additional copies of these data should also be sent to feeder school personnel.

The plan will describe how to use each item and will closely follow the format and arrangement of the Data Summary Sheets. In many instances, the plan will refer back to the summary sheets and elaborate on the manner in which they should be utilized. It is hoped that the Data Summary Sheets and the Evaluation Plan will enable the GJVS to carry on its own evaluation with minimal assistance from outside specialists.

PLAN FOR STUDENT OBJECTIVES

1. Provide the opportunity for a vocational education to all Greene County high school students 16 years or older who meet the curricular prerequisites.
 - (1.1) All items assessing this objective are the responsibility of the GJVS counselor. Items should be completed by 1 June of each academic year. During the first year of operation, these items should be completed by 1 October 1967. After reviewing the summary data, the director and/or superintendent will take appropriate action.
2. Increase the number of curricular offerings and choices available to high school students in Greene County.
 - (2.1) All items assessing this objective are the responsibility of the GJVS counselor. Items should be completed by 1 October of each academic year. After reviewing the summary data, the director and/or superintendent will take appropriate action.
3. Reduce the number of students of high school age who fail to complete high school.
 - (3.1) All items assessing this objective are the responsibility of the GJVS counselor.
 - (3.2) In item a, the number of dropouts for each feeder school for years 1964, 1965, and 1966 should be averaged to provide the average number of dropouts for each feeder school during the most recent periods prior to the opening of the GJVS.
 - (3.3) In order to complete item d, attempts should be made by the GJVS counselor and feeder school counselors to interview by phone or in person those individuals who drop out of school during the academic year. In addition, attempts should also be made to interview feeder school students who dropped out during the September 1966 academic year. We are interested in determining why students say they leave school so that we can reduce this number by developing programs that meet their needs.
 - (3.4) All items should be completed by 1 May of each academic year. During the first year of operation, the items dealing with feeder school dropouts during the academic year beginning September 1966 should be completed by 1 December 1967.

- (3.5) Completed copies of the Data Summary Sheet covering objective 3 should be provided to both the director and superintendent of the GJVS. Copies should also be sent to the Superintendent of feeder schools and their guidance counselors. It may be reasonable to have a county-wide meeting once or twice a year to discuss the dropout problem and methods of reducing it.
4. Place each student desiring a vocational education in a curriculum compatible with his interests, aptitudes, and achievements as reflected by student course selections, measurement of student interests, teacher evaluation, counselor evaluation, test results, and parental consent.
- (4.1) Item a will be the responsibility of the GJVS counselor. It will be completed by 1 June of each academic year. However, the first report dealing with the beginning students will be made by 1 October 1967. Copies of the completed Data Summary Sheet for objectives should be provided to both the director and superintendent of the GJVS.
- (4.2) Item b will be the responsibility of the GJVS counselor. It will be completed by 1 October of each year. It will involve contacting feeder school personnel as well as GJVS personnel to determine the number and type of parental complaints. The five most frequent types of complaints will be identified and provided to the director and superintendent of the GJVS. A meeting between the GJVS counselor, director, and superintendent will be held late in October to discuss ways of solving or reducing parental complaints.
- (4.3) Item c will be the responsibility of the GJVS counselor and will require him to critically review the student enrollment procedures and make recommendations to the GJVS director and superintendent. The evaluation of the June enrollment procedures should be completed by 1 October of the following academic year.
- (4.4) Item d should be completed by each GJVS instructor. Evaluation sheets should be provided to them by 1 December of each academic year. Items should be completed by 31 December. These sheets will then be sent to the GJVS counselor. He will summarize the data by indicating the total number of students that instructors feel were incorrectly placed and the five most frequent reasons they cite for believing this. The counselor should meet with each instructor making a complaint and discuss the problem in more detail. When necessary, the GJVS director and superintendent should also be contacted.
- (4.5) Item e is the responsibility of the GJVS counselor. He should make note of the complaints registered by feeder school personnel concerning GJVS enrollment procedures and classify them by school. A list of the five most frequent complaints should be constructed. This report should be completed by 1 October and will reflect the criticism associated with the enrollment taking place during the preceding May. A meeting should be arranged with the GJVS counselor, director, and superintendent and will be held late in October to discuss ways of solving or reducing feeder school complaints.

- (4.6) Item f will be the responsibility of the GJVS superintendent. He will list any complaints raised by his school board regarding GJVS enrollment procedures. These issues will be discussed at the meeting to be held late in October to discuss enrollment problems.
 - (4.7) Item g will be completed by employers and/or supervisors of GJVS graduates. These questionnaires will be mailed out one year after the students have graduated. Questionnaires should be mailed at a time which is administratively convenient for the GJVS staff. Forms should be returned to the GJVS counselor who will be responsible for computing mean scores for each item for each vocational major as well as an overall GJVS mean score.
 - (4.8) Item h will be completed by GJVS students and will only be administered to students spending their first year at the GJVS. Item administration will take place in early May. Completed forms will be provided to the GJVS counselor who will be responsible for summarizing the data and listing the five most frequent reasons why students think they could not take the course they wanted. In addition, a list of the five courses most frequently mentioned when students were asked to identify the course they wanted to take that was not offered will be provided. This data will be reviewed by the director and superintendent and will be given consideration when the school offers additional courses.
5. Provide broad, highly relevant job training which reflects actual industrial performance. The curriculum will incorporate the advice of both industry and labor.
- (5.1) Item a should be completed by the T&I supervisor and/or the director of the GJVS. It should be filled out prior to 5 September of each academic year. When course outlines are not approved, conferences between the instructor and his supervisor should take place as soon as possible to correct deficiencies.
 - (5.2) Item b should be completed by all advisory committee members and can be sent by mail to their homes. This item should be mailed in early October. The GJVS counselor will have the responsibility for summarizing the data returned by them. Mean scores should be obtained for each course using an advisory committee. When mean scores are two or less, advisory members should be interviewed to determine why they feel the course is only "fair," and what steps are necessary to improve the course.

- (5.3) Item c should be completed by each GJVS vocational instructor. These records should be handed in by the end of each academic year, and presented to the GJVS director for review.
 - (5.4) Item d is the responsibility of the T&I supervisor and should be completed by the end of each academic year.
 - (5.5) Item e should be mailed to and completed by the GJVS graduates one year after graduation. The GJVS counselor will be responsible for summarizing the data returned by graduates. Frequency counts by each vocational major and overall GJVS scores can be used for summarization. A meeting should be conducted with the GJVS director and superintendent to discuss the implications of these results.
 - (5.6) Item f will be mailed to and completed by employers of GJVS graduates one year after their graduation. The GJVS counselor will be responsible for summarizing the data returned by employers. Mean scores by vocational major and overall GJVS means can be used for summarization. A meeting should be conducted with the GJVS director and superintendent to discuss the implications of these results.
6. Provide each student desiring a job with employable skills which result in a level of remuneration at least meeting minimum wage standards.
- (6.1) In order to assess this objective, GJVS vocational course instructors will call graduates of their courses three months after graduation to determine their starting salary or hourly wage. Course instructors will then place the data for all students from their class on a sheet and send it to the GJVS counselor. The counselor will be responsible for computing the average starting salary or hourly wage for each vocational major and the overall GJVS average. The director and superintendent will review this data and take appropriate action.
7. Place each student desiring a job in an available position compatible with his interests, training, and achievement as rapidly as possible after graduation from the GJVS.
- (7.1) Item a will be mailed to and completed by GJVS graduates one year after graduation. The GJVS counselor will be responsible for summarizing the data returned by graduates. Frequency counts by vocational major and overall GJVS counts can be used for summarization. A meeting with the director and superintendent should be held to discuss the implications of these results.
 - (7.2) Item b will be completed by GJVS vocational course instructors. This item should be completed at the same time the instructors call to determine the starting salary or hourly wage of their graduates. Course instructors will then send the data for all their students to the GJVS counselor for summarization. Frequency counts by vocational major and overall GJVS can be used for summarization. This data will then be provided to the director and superintendent for review.

8. Provide students with attitudes and information useful in adjusting to the working world as citizens and individuals seeking self-fulfillment.

- (8.1) Item a is to be mailed to and answered by the employers of GJVS graduates one year after graduation. The GJVS counselor will be responsible for summarizing the data returned by graduates. Mean scores by vocational major and overall GJVS means can be used for summarization. The completed data summaries should be provided to the director and superintendent for review. If any vocational major has a mean less than 3, attempts should be made to contact employers to investigate the reasons for the low rating.

- (8.2) The remaining items assessing this objective will be mailed to and completed by GJVS graduates one year after graduation. The GJVS counselor will be responsible for summarizing the data. Mean scores by vocational major and overall GJVS means can be used for summarization. The completed data summaries should be provided to the director and superintendent for review.

9. Provide an English program which emphasizes the practical applications of English to daily life and work.

- (9.1) Item a should be completed by the GJVS director and/or the superintendent by 5 September of each academic year. When the course is rated as being less than relevant a meeting with the course instructor should be held as soon as possible. During this meeting, discussions should take place which identify those aspects of the course that should be changed. Suggestions should also be made concerning methods of improving the course content and organization.

- (9.2) Item b should be completed by GJVS students at the end of each academic year. Forms should be provided in the English class to assess student reaction to the course. The course instructor will be responsible for summarizing the data. The data summarization will consist of class means on the rating item as well as lists of the five topics most frequently mentioned as being useful, the five topics most frequently mentioned as being least useful, and five topics most frequently suggested for use in future courses. The completed data summaries should be provided to the director and superintendent prior to the end of the academic year. Student evaluation of the program should be used in planning the course content and methods for the following year.

This data will then be sent to the GJVS counselor who will be responsible for summarizing the data. He will make a list of the five most frequent types of problems instructors refer to him as well as mean ratings of improvement. During the data summarization, any ratings indicating that the student has become worse should be noted. A meeting between the counselor and instructor should take place to discuss the student in question. Summary data and a list of "problem students" should be provided to the GJVS director and superintendent for review.
 - (11.3) Item d2 will be mailed to and completed by GJVS graduates one year after graduation. The data will be returned to the GJVS counselor who will compute overall GJVS item means. If item means are less than 2, interviews should be conducted to determine why the ratings were low. Summary data should be provided to the director and superintendent.

12. Cooperate with the feeder schools to provide those student services for which the home schools will retain responsibility.

(12.1) Items a, b, c, and d are to be completed by the GJVS counselor at the end of each academic year. Summary data will be provided to the director and superintendent at the end of each academic year.

(12.2) Items e and f will be completed by GJVS students at the end of each academic year. Data forms should be provided during some convenient class period--perhaps English. The data should then be sent to the GJVS counselor for summarization. The summary should indicate the number of students participating in extracurricular activities, the types of activities in which they engage, and the mean of their ratings of the opportunity for participation. If the mean is lower than a "satisfactory one," interviews should be conducted to determine the problems and plans made for corrective action. Summary data sheets will be provided to the GJVS director and superintendent.

13. Provide a library of self-instructional materials for students enrolled in the various programs offered by the GJVS.

(13.1) Items a to e will be completed by the individual assigned responsibility for the self-instructional library. Items should be completed at the end of each academic year.
